CHAPTER II.

August and September passed away, and October had now begun. Arthur avoided the Warleigh's as much as he could; Winnington was constantly at their house. The friends grew estranged.

But, with the younger, the estrangement made no difference in the feeling of affection he always had entertained for Arthur. He was hurt, however, by the change he perceived in his manner. He was hurt at his manifest avoidance of the society of the Squire and his daughter. He was hurt, also, at the total silence Arthur now maintained on the subject of his cousin Lucy. He saw her letters left unopened, sometimes for a whole day, upon the table, instead of being greedily torn open the moment the straggling and uncertain post had achieved their delivery at the door. He was hurt at some other things besides, too minute to be recorded; too minute perhaps to be put into language even by himself, but all perceptible to the sensitive heart of friendship such as his. With no visible improvement in Arthur's fortune or prospects, it was evident that his ideas were constantly on the rise. A strange sort of contempt of poverty mingled with his aspirations after wealth. An amount of income which, at one time, would have satisfied his desires, was looked on with disdain, and the possessor of it almost with hatred. The last words Winnington had heard him speak about Lucy were, that marriage was impossible under a thousand a year. And where was that sum to come from? The extent of Lucy's expectations was fifty—his own, a hundred—and yet he sneered at the Warleighs as if they had been paupers; although in that cheap country, and at that cheap time, a revenue of three hundred pounds enabled them to live in comfort, almost in luxury.

Winnington took no thought of to-morrow, but loved Ellen Warleigh, with no consideration of whether she was rich or poor. It is probable that Ellen had no more calculating disposition than Winnington; for it is certain that her sentiments towards him were not regulated by the extent of his worldly wealth—perhaps she did not even know what her sentiments toward him were—but she thought him delightful, and wandered over the solitary heaths with him in search of specimens. They very often found none, in the course of their four hour's ramble, and yet came home as content ed as if they had discovered an Emperor of Morocco on every bush. Baulked in their natural history studies by the perverse absence of moth and butterfly, they began—by way of having something to do—to take up the science of botany. The searches they made for heath of a particular kind! The joy that filled them when they came on a group of wild flowers, and gathered them into a little basket they carried with them, and took them back to the manor, and astonished Mr. Warleigh with the sound of their Latin names! What new dignity the commonest things took under that sonorous nomenclature! How respectable a nettle grew when called an urtica, and how suggestive of happiness and Gretna Green when a flower be declared to be cryptoganic.

"See what a curious root this piece of broom has," said Winnington, one night, on his return from the manor, and laid his specimen on the table.

Arthur hardly looked up from his book, and made a short reply.

"It took Ellen and me ten minutes, with all our force, to pull it up by the roots. We had no knife, or I should merely have cut off the stalk; but see, now that the light falls on it, what curious shining earth it grows in, with odd little stones twisted up between the fibres! Did you ever see any thing like it?" Arthur had fixed his eyes on the shrub during this speech. He stretched forth his hand and touched the soil still clinging to his roots—he put a small portion to his lips—his face grew deadly pale.

"Where did you get this?" he said.

"Down near the waterfall—not a hundred yards from this."

"On whose land? On the glebe?" said Arthur, speaking with parched mouth, and still gazing on the broom.

"Does Warleigh know this?" he went on, "or the clergyman! Winnington! no one must be told; tell Ellen to be silent; but she is not aware, perhaps. Does she suspect!"

"What? what is she to suspect, my dear Arthur? Don't you think you work too much?" he added, looking compassionately on the dilated eye and pale cheek of his companion. "You must give up your studies for a day or two. Come with us on an exploring expedition to the Outer fell tomorrow; Mr. Warleigh is going."

"And give him the fruits of all my reading," Arthur muttered angrily. "of all I learned at the Hartz; tell him how to proceed, and leave myself a beggar. No!" he said, "I will never see him. As to this miserable little weed," he continued, tearing the broom to pieces, and casting the fragments contemptuously into the fire, "it is nothing; you are mad to have given up your butterflies to betake yourself to such a ridiculous pursuit as this. Don't go there any more—there!" Here he stamped on it with his foot. "How damp it is! the fire has little power."

"You never take any interest, Arthur, in any thing I do. I don't know, I'm sure, how I've offended you. As to the broom, I know it's a poor common thing, but I thought the way its roots were loaded rather odd. Ellen will perhaps be disappointed, for we intended to plant it in her garden, and I only asked her to let me show it to you, it struck me as being so very curious. Come, give up your books and learning for a day. We must leave this for Oxford in a week, and I wish you to know more of the Warleighs before we go."

"I am not going back to Oxford," said Arthur; "I shall take my name off the books."

Winnington was astonished. He was also displeased. "We promised to visit my aunt," he said. "on our way back to college. Lucy will be grieved and disappointed."

"I will send a letter by you—I shall explain it all—I owe her a letter already."

"Have you not answered that letter yet? it came a month ago," said Winnington. "Oh! if Ellen Warleigh would write a note to me, and let me write to her, how I would answer them from morn to night."

"She would find you rather a troublesome correspondent," said Arthur, watching the disappearance of the last particle of the broom as it leaped merrily in sparkles up the chimney. "Lucy knows that I am better employed than telling her ten times over that I love her better than any thing else—and that I long for wealth principally that it may enable me to call her mine. I shall have it soon. Tell her to be sure of that. I shall be of age in three days; then the wretched driblet my guardian now has charge of comes into my hands; I will multiply it a thousand-fold, and then—"

"The palace will be built," said Winnington, who could not keep anger long, "and the place at your right hand will be got ready for the resident physican—who in the mean time recommends you to go quietly to bed, for you have overstrung your mind with work, and your health, dear Arthur, is not at all secure."

For a moment, a touch of the old kindness came to Arthur's heart. He shook Winnington's hand. "Thank you, thank you," he said, "I will do as you advise. Your voice is very like Lucy's, and so are your eyes—good-night, dear Winnington."—And Winnington left the room; so did Arthur, but not for bed. A short time before this a package had arrived from Hawsleigh, and had been placed away in a dark closet under the stairs. He looked for a moment out into the night. The moon was in a cloud, and the wind was howling with a desolate sound over the bare moor. He took down the package, and from it extracted a spade and a pickax; and, gently opening the front door, went ont. He walked quickly till he came to the waterfall; he looked carefully round and saw a clump of broom. The ground from the rectory to this place formed a gentle declivity; where the river flowed there were high banks, for the stream had not yet been swelled by the rains, and he first descended into the bed, and examined the denuded cliffs. He then hurried toward the broom, and began to dig. He dug and struck with the pickax, and shoveled up the soil—weighing, smelling and tasting it, as he descended foot by foot. He dug to the depth of a yard: he jumped into the hole and pursued his work—breathless, hot, untiring. The moon for a moment came out of the clouds that obscured her. He availed himself of her light, and held up a particle of soil and stone; it glittered for an instant in the moonlight. With an almost audible cry he threw it to the bottom of the excavation, and was scrambling out when he heard a voice. It was the drunken shoemaker returning from some distant merry-making. He lay down at the bottom of the hole, watching for the approaching footsteps. At a little distance from the waterfall the singer changed his path, and diverged toward the village. The song died off in the distance.

"That danger's past," said Arthur, "both for him and me. I would have killed him if he had come nearer. Back, back," he continued, while he filled up the hole he had made, carefully shoveling in the soil—"no eye shall detect that you have been moved." He replaced the straggling turf where it had been disturbed, stamped it down with his feet, and beat it smooth with his spade. And then went home.

"Hallo! who's there?" cried Winnington, hearing the door open and shut. "Is that you, Arthur?"

"Yes; are you not asleep yet?"

"I've been asleep for hours. How late you are. Weren't you out of the house just now?"

"I felt hot, and went out for a minute to see the moon."

"Hot?" said Winnington. "I wish I had another blanket—good night." Arthur passed on to his own room.

"If he had opened his door," he said, "and seen my dirty clothes, these yellow stains on my knees, these dabbled hands, what could I have done?" He saw himself in the glass as he said this; there was something in the expression of his face that alarmed him. He drew back.

"He is very like Lucy," he muttered to himself, "and I'm glad he didn't get out of bed."

Meantime Winnington had a dream. He was on board a beautiful boat on the Isis. It seemed to move by its own force, as if it were a silver swan; and the ripple as it went on took the form of music, and he thought it was an old tune that he had listened to in his youth. He sat beside Ellen Warleigh, with his hand locked in hers, and they watched the beautiful scenery through which the boat was gliding—past the pretty Cherwell, past the level meadows, past the Newnham woods—and still the melody went on. Then they were in a country he did not know; there were tents of gaudy colors on the shore, and wild-eyed men in turbans and loose tunics looked out upon them. One came on board; he was a tall, dark Emir, with golden-sheathed cimeter, which clanked as he stepped on the seat. Winnington stood up and asked what the stranger wanted; the chief answered in Arabic, but Winnington understood him perfectly. He said he had come to put him to death for having dared to look upon his bride. He laid his grasp on him as he spoke, and tore him from Ellen's side. In the struggle Winnington fell over, and found himself many feet in front of the fairy boat. The Arab sat down beside Ellen, and put his arm round her waist, and then he suddenly took the shape of Arthur Hayning. The boat seemed to flutter its wings, and come faster on. Winnington tried to swim to one side, but could not. On came the boat, its glittering bows flashing before his eyes—they touched him—pressed him down: he felt the keel pass over his head; and down, down, still downward he went, and, on looking up, saw nothing but the boat above him; all was dark where he was, for the keel seemed constantly between him and the surface, and yet he heard the old tune still going on. It was a tune his cousin Lucy used to play, but at last, in his descent through the darkened water, he got out of hearing, and all was silent. The music had died away, and suddenly he heard a scream, and saw Ellen struggling in the water. He made a dart toward her with arms stretched out—and overturned the candle he had left on the table at the side of his bed.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, May 19th, 1856.

Editors Fireman's Journal:

The steamer which brings you this letter will convey the news of the killing of one of the waiters at Willard's Hotel, by the name of Thomas Keating, by the Hon. P. T. Herbert, of your State.

The affair caused intense excitement, and various exaggerated statements were not only made by the press, but even by the witnesses, on the examination before the Justices, and before the Judge of the Criminal Court. The testimony adduced on the part of the United States was very conflicting, and totally irreconcilable with the facts, no two witnesses testifying alike; while on the part of Mr. Herbert the witnesses strongly corroborated the testimony. Your writer having lived in Washington for the past fifteen years, and most of the time at hotels, has had an opportunity frequently to notice the insolence of the servants, and witness many collisions between them and the guests, as violent as that in which Mr. Herbert was engaged, only not resulting in loss of life. From an intimate friend of Mr. Herbert, I learn that he has carried no weapons for months previous to the night before the fatal occurrence; and it was by mere accident that he had the pistol with him with which he shot Keating—the pistol belonging to a Capt Gardiner. The insolence of Keating became so unbearable while Mr. Herbert was waiting for his breakfast, that he could no longer restrain himself, and he struck him, upon which Keating immediately picked up a chair and made for Herbert, backed by five or six other servants, armed with chairs, plates, table knives, &c., upon which Mr. H. retreated towards the door, but they still pressed upon him, and at last partially felled him to the floor, while at the same time both of the Keatings had hold of him, leaving him perfectly defenceless against the attacks of the others. Not until all this had taken place did Mr. Herbert use his pistol, which with great difficulty he succeeded in chawing from a side pocket, and fired it under his arm.

I think you can rely upon the above statement as being substantially correct. However much the occurrence is to be deplored, still, under the circumstances, Mr. Herbert could not have acted in any other manner. Overpowered by numbers, showing all the fierceness of their nature when their blood is up, it became evident to him that his life was in great danger, and that he must shoot in self-defence. He will undoubtedly be honorably acquitted, and I doubt much whether even the Grand Jury will find an indictment against him. Mr. Herbert is personally very popular among all classes of our citizens.

The "Good Will" Fire Co., of Philadelphia, numbering some seventy members, during the past week have been on a visit to Baltimore and Washington. They were as splendid a looking and gentlemanly set of men as you may meet in any association, while their general deportment won the commendation of all of our citizens.

They paid a visit to Mount Vernon, the residence and tomb of Washington, and on their return sumptuous entertainments and attentions were showered upon them. Their Chief Marshal is the Hon. M. Coburn, of the State Senate of Pennsylvania, a gentleman of fine attainments.

B. C. Greenup, a fine young man, was killed here, last week, by being run over by the Columbia Fire Engine, while descending Capitol Hill, going to a fire. He was a member of the "Columbia."

Another fireman, belonging to the "Anacosta Company," by the name of Nally, was shot dead by a man named Jarboe, for the alleged seduction of his sister. Jarboe is to be examined before a magistrate to day, as he gave himself up immediately after his killing Nally.

Washington is crowded with politicians who intend going to the Democratic Convention which meets at Cincinnatti, on the 2d of June. The political cauldron begins to boil and bubble very fiercely, and the friends of the various candidates are moving heaven and earth, to effect the nomination of their favorite, who ever he may be. The convention will be a very exciting and turbulent one, and much ill feeling will be engued among its members.

LOBBY MEMBER.

Letter from Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, MAY 19th 1856.

EDITOR FIREMAN'S JOURNAL.

I must apologise to your patrons, for not writing in so long a time, but indisposition I think will be a sufficient excuse.

The Fire Department of Baltimore, is in as healthy a condition as I have ever known it to be; the companies composing it, with a few exceptions, being on the most friendly terms; which is a very necessary item in the working of an organization of the kind.

At the last meeting of the Department representatives, the United States Suction and Hose Company was admitted into the Department as a component part thereof. This company was formed as a Hose Company, and for sometime kept up their organization, hoping to get into the Department as such, but after several ineffectual efforts to accomplish that object, they decided to alter their organization to suit the views of those who opposed them, hence their admission into the Department. At the same meeting, on motion of H. P. Duhurst of the Mechanical, the application of the Monumental Hose Company for admission was called up and after a spirited debate, they were again refused admission; lacking only two votes of a necessary majority, with the votes of three companies divided and one friendly to it voting against them, which was owing to the fact, that the lateness of the hour had driven a portton of the delegation home, leaving those who opposed them present, to cast the vote of the company.

The Monumental at a previous meeting of the Department, in a communication, claimed it as a right guaranteed by the charter, their admission therein; this was referred to a select committee, which reported adverse to their application; they then took the matter before the Superior Court, but subsequently withdrew the suit, believing their admission voluntarily given by the members of the Department, would give more general satisfaction; though still entertaining the opinion that they have a clear right to be represented equally with the other companies in said body, while those opposing them contend that the organization is not formed in accordance with the charter regulating the formation of the companies, comprised in said Department, as well as tending to operate against the usefulness of the Department; how the matter will terminate it is difficult to conjecture.

We have just been honored by a visit from the "Good Will" of Philadelphia, as fine looking a set of firemen as we ever had here. The uniform consists of Black pants, light coat, blue hat and cape; the engine is most beautiful, the prominent colors being green and gold; four handsome paintings adorning the panels of the gallery. They were the especial guests of the "Liberty," and I assure you they could not be in better hands. On their arrival they were received by a delegation from most of the companies in the Department; they say they have seen the "elephant," and are satisfied that the "Baltimore boys" are competent to show him up to the greatest advantage.

Yours &c.

BALTIMORE

Letter from Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, May 19th, 1956.

EDITOR FIREMAN'S JOURNAL.

There is but little of importance occurring in our Department at the present writing. We have had but fifteen fires from Apl. 19th. to date, the largest was in Oxford street, near Atlantic avenue; the Fire Department was quick on the ground, but could not get any water; after some delay they formed the longest line that has been formed in this city for years, there being eight engines in it, as follows, No. 19 at suction into 16-14-13-1-5-8 and 17 on the fire.

The Common Council have not reported on the case of Nos. 6 and 11, and I think that it will be sometime before they do. There is entirely too much politics in all things connected with the Fire Department; we envy your Department, in not being under the political ban of city authorities.

This afternoon the firework manufactory on Hickory street, near Schenck, blew up with a tremendous explosion, there being about 200 pounds of powder in the shop at the time. One man was killed, and two others are not expected to recover, and four others seriously injured. The district bell gave the alarm, but before the Department could reach the spot, the building was a heap of ruins. The owner of this manufactory had a shop destroyed about five years since, on Fulton avenue, at which three boys were killed.

I received a letter, a few days since, from a friend in Savannah, in which he gave a description of the annual parade of the Fire Department, which came off on the 8th inst. There were only three companies out, and the "Aetna" of Charleston, which was on a visit. They all had a trial of their engines, in South-Brourel street, near the Presbyterian church; with the following result. The "Aetna," a first class Hunneman, ⅞ nozzle, 50 feet of hose, 209 feet. The "Washington," second class, side stroke, built by Jeffers, 1 inch nozzle, 191 feet. The "Oglethorpe" second class Hunneman, ¾ nozzle, 155½ feet. The "Young America" ¾ stream 167 feet.

A young man named George Hegely, a member of Franklin Engine Company No.3, of this city, was drowned on the 17th of April, his body was found a few days since, and the deceased having no friends in the country, the company had the body brought to the engine house, and on Sunday afternoon the burial took place, and it was the first time in the history of the Fire Department, that a member was taken to his last resting place from the engine house. The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher delivered an address suitable for the occasion, and the dead was followed to the grave by members of Engine Companies Nos. 3 and 1, Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 and Hose Co. No. 1. These Companies turned out—much to their credit—with full ranks, to pay the last tribute of respect to a stranger in a strange land.

BROOKLYN.

Lib.rality.

An elderly widow lady, said to be worth about one hundred thousand dollers, was induced to attend on the ministrations of the Rev. Mr. ——, a young divine of great amiability, and very popular as a minister. The old lady was very much pleased with him, and invited him to call and see her.—There was nobody like Mr. ——. She was continually talking of him and of his talents as a minister. She said that she believed that he had been sent by a special Providence to be the means of her salvation, and that she was indebted to him for her present peace of mind, with many other expressions of the kind; and that the ministers of Christ were but poorly paid for the eminent and invaluable services rendered to the people, and of her willingness to contribute at any time and every time it was required to pay him liberally for the arduous duties devolving upon him. Time passed on, and the old lady was still loud in her laudations and proffers of material aid. On one occasion, funds being required to meet the demands of the church and pay a balance due the minister, a number of liberal-hearted and generous ladies determined to make an effort to relieve the treasury, by soliciting contributions from the membership and and those who were regularly in attendance upon the means of grace, and, among others, called upon the old lady. When they made known their request, she responded:

"Certainly, certainly; it is the duty of every one to give what they are able for so deserving an object. But who have you on your book, and what have they given?"

The ladies responded to the inquiry by stating that Mr. —— had given five dollars, Mr. —— five dollars, and Mrs. —— so much—to all of which the old lady listened with marked attention—and then one of the ladies said:

"Mrs. ——, how much shall we put down for you?"

From her known ability and oft-repeated willingness, the ladies had indulged in many surmises as to the amount they would receive from her; some supposed that she would give twenty-five dollars, others fifty, and some even calculated, as it was the first application, and as she openly attributed her salvation to the exertions of the minister whose salary was to be paid in part from the proceeds of the collection, that she would give at least one hundred dollars. She hesitated for some time before she replied to the interrogatory, when, with a sigh, she said:

"Well, I suppose you may put me down for —six cents!"

Here was a damper; the ladies looked at each other in mute astonishment, while some of the party supposed she was only jesting with them; but not a smile could be discerned on the lips of the old lady, and they began to conclude it was no jesting matter, and entered her name on the book with six cents opposite. Yet, hoping she was not in earnest, or that they may have misunderstood her, one of the ladies read over the names of the contributors, with the sums each had given, including our old friend, with six cents opposite her name, and asked:

"Mrs. ——, is that right?"

"Yes, yes," with a nod of the head—"that is it"—at the same time handing her the six coppers—"and say to Mr. ——, if he wants any drawers made, and will buy the muslin and have them cut out, I will make them for him at half price!"

The ladies thanked her for her generosity, and left.

Removal.—The Job and Publication Office of this paper has been removed to No. 72 Merchant street, next door to Montgomery Block.

For sale low, for Cash.

Three hundred pounds Brevier Type partly worn:
One " " Minion " " "
Four " " Small Pica nearly new.
Three " " Pica " "

Also Forty fonts of Border. One Cabinet containing Twenty-eight fonts fancy Job type. One hundred fonts plain and fancy Job type, together with Cases, Stands, Rules, Leads etc, all of which will be so'd on the most reasonable terms if immediate application be made at this office.

It is to be regretted, that, the resolution offered by Mr. Reed, of Tiger 14, at the last meeting of the Board of Delegates, calling for the issuance of Diploma Certificates to all who are now members of the Fire Department, was not adopted. The object of the resolution was to allow the present members of the organization a certificate unblemished, for so soon as the Consolidation Bill goes into effect, the office of Mayor becomes obsolete, and the Secretary will have on hand some eight hundred of those splendid diploma certificates, which to all those coming into the Department after the 1st of July, must be issued like Richard the 3d, "half made up;" or the certificate plate altered so as to meet the exigency of the case. Had the committee having charge of the certificate, ever supposed, for a moment, that such a measure as the Consolidation Bill was going into effect, the "Mayor of the City of San Francisco," would have been left off the plate, as one of the required signatures. As it is the Department must suffer a loss of at least five hundred dollars in useless certificates, and as much more in having the plate disfigured, by erasing the "Mayor" from it. In regard to these diploma certificates, we suggest that the law of the Department be repealed, in relation to them, and that every member joining the organization, receive one at the time, by paying five dollars for the same. We firmly believe that the adoption of such a system, would be productive of beneficial results, in more ways than one.

On the outside we publish a letter from our Washington correspondent, in which a full justification of the act committed by Hon. P. T. Herbert, is given. We publish the letter for the information it contains, and to give Mr. Herbert's friends every opportunity to defend the position he is in, at the same time we cannot divest ourselves of the belief, that in the killing of Keating, the cause did not justify the end, and it will give us great satisfaction to learn, when the trial comes on, that Mr. Herbert has been enabled to show, in ex. termination, that something more than the mere insolence of a waiter, gave him authority to take his life. We hope so for the reputation of the State.

Fires and Alarms for the week.

June 15th, 2 A. M.—Hall Bell alarm—second district. Fire in Malt house of Mr. Heuston, at foot of Stockton street. It being situated so far under the hill, and the building being of iron, keeping the flames in, the firemen could not discover it. No. 9, however, reached the scene on the first atarm, and the members worked manfully to quench the flames. The bell having ceased ringing, and the fire increasing, Asst. Engineer Devoe. returned to the City Hall and sounded another alarm; and ordering back several of the engines on their way home, soon had an effective force in operation. The damage to the building and stock amountee to $8,500.

General James Allen.—We had the pleasure, yesterday, of meeting Gen'l Allen, the editor of the California American, one of the most honorable and upright men connected with the press of this State. From a glance at the General we must say, that in our opinion he is far from being an "old man tottering on the grave," but, on the contrary, full of life, health and hope, giving every indication of a long career of usefulness and honor. No better example for the guidance of the younger members of the profession-editorial, could be presented, than that which has been set by the gentleman of whom we write.

Board of Delegates.—A special meeting of the Board of Delegates, is called for next Wednesday evening. The causes are well known to every fireman. We earnestly entreat every delegate to be present on that evening, and if a member finds that his engagements are such that he cannot possibly attend, let the proper authority of his company appoint a substitute for that occasion, so that there may be a full representation. The matter which will come up for consideration, although originating in one branch of the organization, it is not local, but in its final disposition intereats and affects the entire Department.

Hose Carriage.—Messrs. J. Berry & Co., on Bush street, are now engaged in constructing a very elegant four wheel Hose Carriage, for the use of the Mutuals of Marysville. It is built on an improved principle, of good material, will be light and durable, and will cost about one thousand dollars.

Tiger Co. No. 14.—The appropriation of $3800, toward the building of a house for the Tiger Co., passed the Board of Assistants, on Tuesday night. The amount of course is not sufficient, but we presume the people of the Seventh Ward, will make up whatever deficiency may occur.

Board of Delegates.

An adjourned stated meeting of the Board was held on Wednesday evening last, June 18th, 1856, at 7 1-2 o'clock, in their chambers at the City Hall.

President Franklin L. Jones in the chair.

The Roll being called, the following members answered to their names:

Messrs. McCarthy, Wasson, Rand, Heydenfeldt, Boruck, Hixon, Vreeland, Titcomb, Hossefross, Moore, McKendry, Thomas, Bluxome, Fitzpatrick, Simons, Tucker, Whalen, Finnegan, Reed, Plum, States.

Absent, Messrs. Hunt, Babcock, Sinton, Walsh, Herbert, Buckley, Hoff, Cobb, Maillott, Hoffman, Mahony.

Mr. J. Berry was admitted as a Delegate from St. Francis H. & L. Co. No. 1, vice H. S. Hanks, resigned.

The minutes of the adjourned stated meeting of May 28th, and the regular meeting, June 11th, were read and approved.

Committees on Rules, Finance and Judiciary, made no report.

The Committee on the case of Mr. Stanley, was continued.

A communication from Volunteer Engine Co. No. 7, was received and read, and the consideration of its contents postponed until Wednesday evening next.

Mr. Reed, of Tiger 14, offered a resolution that Section 9, of the requirements of the Department, be repealed so far as it relates to the issuing of Diploma Certificates.

The Ayes and Nays were ordered to be taken on the question, with the following result:

Ayes—Rand, Heydenfeldt, Boruck, Hixon, Vreeland, Titcomb, McKendry, Thomas, Reed, Plum, States, Berry,—12.

Nays—McCarthy, Wasson, Hossefross, Bluxome, Fitzpatrick, Simons, Tucker, Whalen, Finnegan, Jones,—10.

Two-thirds not having voted in the majority, the resolution was lost.

Mr. Reed then introduced the following resolution:—

Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed to have the plate altered for the Diploma Certificate, to read, in place of "Mayor of City of San Francisco," "Foreman of —— Co. No. —;" and that the Committee shall have power to have 1,000 Certificates issued and forwarded to San Francisco.

On a division vote the resolution was lost—Ayes 4, Nays 13.

There being no further business, the Board adjourned until next Wednesday evening, June 25th.

Sacramento.

We find by reference to the Sacramento papers that our brethern in that City, are no better off for hose than the firemen of this city.

The Fire and Water Committee to whom was referred the clear and concise report of Chief Engineer Arents, made a statement to the Common Council, on the 16th inst., from which we make several extracts, relative to the condition of the Department. The Chief Engneer set forth that the hose in use by the Fire Department, was entirely unreliable in case of a large fire, from long use; to which the Fire and Water Committee reply:—

Your committee, or at least a part thereof, is well aware of the truth of this statement, and are confident that should a large fire occur—such an one as laid our city in ruins in 1852, or even later, 1854—the hose would be wholly inadequate for the use of the Department, for a longer time than one or two hours.

The greatest protection that can be afforded to the property of our citizens, is a complete and thoroughly organized Fire Department, with all the appliances necessary to the successful combatting fire. It is also apparent to your honorable body that without good hose the Department is perfectly useless—having a name without the reality.

In view of those facts, the committee presented a resolution for adoption, that the Chief Engineer have authority to purchase 600 feet of New York hose, at a price not to exceed $1 75 per foot.

The Chief Engineer was also authorized to purchase, at an expense not to exceed $2500, the engine built by James Smtth, and expected to arrive within a few days, the engine to be for the use of Eureka Engine Co. No. 4.

The same committee also reported favorably on building two new brick engine houses for Nos. 5 and 6, provided, the companies, each procure or purchase a lot for the purpose, and deed ing the same to the city.

Injured.—Mr. George H. Hossefross Foreman of Monumental 6, while running to the fire on Sunday morning last, at the head of his engine, fell off the wharf at the foot of Stockton street, a distance of twenty-one feet, and striking on the hard sand, sustained a severe contusion of his right ankle. The injury although not dangerous, is very severe, and will require at least ten days, before it will be entirely well.

Acknowledgment.—Mr. Heuston, the owner of the property destroyed on Sunday morning last, desires us, on his behalf, to return to William H. Bovee, Foreman, and the members of Vigilant 9, his sincere thanks, for their promptness and untiring energy to save his effects. This is deserved by No. 9, for they had an arduous work to perform, and manfully accomplished it.

Being Repaired.—We are happy to inform the members of the Department that the streets in the lower portion of the city, are being substantially repaired, and in two weeks at least, they will have the satisfaction of knowing that in case of fire, they will be enabled to run where they please on the wharves without the fear of falling through into the depth below.

Cutting Hose.—During the excitement which prevailed a few weeks since, the hose of Crescent Engine Co., as it laid in the house, were maliciously cut, and rendered unfit for use. For the purpose of allaying the feeling at that time, we did not allude to the subject, but we now ask that the Chief Engineer will thoroughly investigate the matter, and endeavor to ferret out the perpetrators of the deed.

The "Leader"—The Oakland Leader, which has heretofore, appeared as a weekly paper, comes out on Tuesday next as a daily. The editorial conduct of the paper will still devolve upon Mr. Davidson.

Benefit.—A benefit was given to Protection Engine Company No.2, of Sacramento on Wednesday evening, in that city, by the Circus Company, performing; a large amount was realized.

Noisy Carrier.—We are indebted to C. P. Kimball, 97 Battery street, for copies of letter sheets issued by him, giving a very excellent representation of Fort Vigilance.

Thanks—To J. W. Sullivan, and Messrs. Doran and Merrian for full files of papers, periodicals and magazines, received by the last steamer.

Williamsburgh, May 20th, 1856.

Editor Fireman's Journal,

Dear Sir.

Nothing could have pleased me better than a copy of your "Journal; thanks to you for it. as also for your kind remembrance, in its columns, for our Department, and for your good wishes for our success in the attempt to sever ourselves from political influences. We were, however, doomed to disappointment. The politicians were too much for us this time, and we must continue as we are a little while longer; laboring under unjust imputations, and subject to stigmas undeserved.

You of course are aware, though many of your readers may not be, that on the first day of the year 1855, Brooklyn, Williamsburgh and Bushwick became united as one city, under the title of "the City of Brooklyn." The only vestige of the individuality of Williamsburgh now remaining is the Fire Department.

The "Act of Consolidation" provides that there shall be two Departments, one for the Eastern District, composed of Williamsburgh and Bushwick; and one for the Western District, composed of old Brooklyn. There being no Fire Department in Bushwick, our Department was undisturbed, and continues its original identity, except in name merely.

Each Deparment has its Chief and Assistant Engineers, who have supreme control of the men in their respective districts. We have had several fires near the line, when both Departments worked harmoniously and effectively, under the authority of the Engineers of the District in which the fire existed.

Both are under the control of the Common Council of Brooklyn, but we of the Eastern District are so remote from "headquarters, (the City Hall) and have had so little sympathy or interest with a majority of the officials there, that our new responsibility renders us uneasy, we are loth to recognize our new and strange masters.

The Department of the Western Dlstrict has the best of us in this respect, they being better acquainted, and more familiar with the "powers that be." There is considerable "sympathy" between Aldermen and Firemen. The former have control after election, but the latter are powerful just about "primary meeting" and "nomination" time. The mutality of interest or sympathy is fully evidenced in the following:

During the past winter, some half dozen companies were under lock and key, for "riotous, quarrelsome and disorderly conduct;" so say the complainants. The committee, to whom the complaints were referred, reported in favor of disbanding the companies, but the Alderman refused to concur, nay, they amended the report and ordered the machines to be restored to the companies. Mayor Hall who had locked them up, vetoed the proceedings, but of course that did not change any votes in the board, and his veto was a nullity. So the b'hoys got their machines back, and their time was allowed as usual.

Frank Spinola, Foreman of Engine Co. No. 4, (one of the locked up ones) declares it was all a political move. These companies are doubtless indebted to him, more than to any one else, for their triumph. Spinola was a "Whig" but is now a "National Democrat, and as such was last fall elected to the Legislature.

Had we been under duress, I fear we should not have come off so well. We have no Spinola to work for us, and our Eastern District Aldermen are in the minority.

Since the consolidation, we have organized three new Engine Companies and one Bucket Company. The engines are No. 11, at Greenport, No. 12, at old Bushwick. and No. 13, near the old Brooklyn line. The Bucket Co. is the first ever organized here. Such things are well enough in country villages, but the idea of extinguishing fires with buckets, was abandoned by firemen when "machines" were introduced. Ours, however, has answered the purpose for which it was organized, to wit:—to help elect a Chief Engineer.

But I am "stretching too much hose" and must "take up." At another time I will resume, if agreeable to "the Journal."

A Williamsburgh Fireman.

Fire Districts.—The Consolidation Bill which goes into effect on the 1st of July, divides the city into twelve wards. This as a matter of course will render it necessary to make an alteration in the Fire Districts of the city. It is a matter which should be attended to without delay. as it is one of vital importance to the citizens, and to the Department. Below will be found a list of the wards and boundaries, under the new law.

The Commission entrusted with laying out of the new City and County under the provisions of the Consolidation Bill, have completed their labors, having subdivided the Districts as follows, taking Kearny and Market streets as the lines:

First Ward.—From the north side of Pacific street, and the east side of Kearny street, to the Bay.

Second Ward.—North side of Pacific, west side of Kearny, and east side of Leavenworth streets, to the Bay.

Third Ward.—North side of Clay, east side of Larkin, south side of Pacific, and west side of Kearny streets.

Fourth Ward.—North side of Clay, east side of Larkin, south side of Pacific, and west side of Kearny streets.

Fifth Ward.—North side of Pine, east side of Kearny, south side of Clay, to Market street.

Sixth Ward.—North side of Pine, east side of Larkin, south side of Clay, and west side of Kearny streets.

Seventh Ward.—North side of Market, east side of Dupont, south side of Pine, forming a triangle.

Eighth Ward.—North side of Market, east side of Larkin, south side of Pine, and west side of Dupont streets.

Ninth Ward.—East side of Second, and south side of Market streets, to the Bay.

Tenth Ward.—East side of Harris, south side of Market, west side of Market, west side of Second streets, to the Bay.

Eleventh Ward.—West side of Harris, south side of Market, west side of Larkin, and south side of Bush, to County limits.

Twelfth Ward.—North side of Bush, west side of Larkin, north side of Pacific, and west side of Leavenworth street, to the Bay and Ocean.

By this it will be seen that little or no change is made in the location of the original Wards, except in size. Of the new Wards, three lay south of Market, and the fourth north of Bush, bounded by Larkin, Pacific, and Leavenworth streets, to the County limits.

Double Murder.—We perceive that the management of the Metropolitan Theatre, intend suspending all the "dead heads" who have heretofore visited that Dramatic temple, so soon as the engagement of Mrs. Hayne commences.

Rescinded.—The order issued sometime since by the Chief Engineer; confining the various companies in the Department, to districts, has been rescinded, and they are free to run wherever they may think there is cause for alarm.

Metropolitan Theatre.—On Monday evening next Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne will make her first appearance before a California audience, at the Metropolitan Theatre. Mrs. Hayne is looked upon as being at the head of her profession in America, and the high encomiums passed upon her by the most exacting critics, fully justifies that unbounded appreciation of her talents which has been evinced by every audience before whom she has performed. Mrs. Hayne has come to California with no preparatory puffing, in truth, all that has been said in advance was the fact that she was coming. To our way of thinking, it is a great and sure feature of the success of any performer, for if they really have merit it is very easily discerned by the people.—We bespeak for Mrs. Hayne a cordial welcome in San Francisco. We think that Californians will be very much pleased with her conception of the characters she personates. Her style of acting is not strained or affected, is natural to herself, and entirely free from imitation. Her "Julia," in the Hunchback, is unapproachable, and the vivid recollection of her representation of the character, at the Broadway Theatre, New York, leads us to look forward with delight to the performances of Monday evening. Mr. Charles Pope, an actor of pleasing address and considerable merit, lately attached to the Broadway Theatre, accompanies Mrs. Hayne, and will appear in conjunction with her. The present stock company of the Metropolitan is composed of the very best material in the State, among them we notice the names of those old favorites—Mrs. Judah, Mrs. Thoman, Mrs. Hunt, and Messrs. Smith, Marden, Leman, Barry, Ryer, Rogers, Rand, and others. Mr. Torrence, with commendable forethought, has not altered the prices of admission at the Metropolitan during the engagement of Mrs. Hayne.

Union Theatre.—To night Mr. J. B. Booth takes a benefit, at the Union, and the bill of performance, is a rich one. The great Drama of "Nick of the Woods," in which Mr. B. sustains the principal character, Mr. Phelps as Roaring Ralph and Mrs. Booth as Tellie Doe, will be played; after which a fancy dance by La Petite Mary; the entertainment will conclude with the laughable eomedy of the "Stage Struck Barber,"in which Messrs. Booth and Phelps together with Mrs. Claughley will appear. We hope to see the house filled to overflowing as Mr. Booth is certainly entitled to it.

Eureka's.—In a very few days, the Eureka's will visit us from Stockton, let the Department bear it in mind, and perfect the arrangements for their reception.

THE CELEBRATED

GERMAN TONIC AND AROMATIC BITTERS.

☞ AN INFALLIBLE REMEDY FOR JAUNDICE, INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD, &c, &c, and an Elegant, Salubrious and Wonderful Restorative in all DISEASES OF THE STOMACH and DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Virtues of the German Bitters,

In all diseases of the Stomach and Digestive Organs, the German Tonic and Aromatic Bitters surpass any medicine that has ever been devised. By a peculiar process of German chemistry, they possess the power of warming and invigorating the functions of the Stomach, while they diminish the feverish sensibility of the nerves and fibre.

They fortify and strengthen a weak stomach, and quickly dissipate all unpleasant pains and symptoms. They calm spasmodic action; restore the lost appetite; promote digestion; and, in a word, remove, with astonishing power, all the disorders occasioned by weakness and debility, provided the patient be not afflicted with indissoluble organic obstructions.

The e Bitters are highly esteemed in the West Indies and southern part of the United States for nourishing and invigorating the nervous system and acting as a general restorative on debilitated constitutions, arising from bilious complaints contracted in warm climates.

They are pre-eminently efficacious in all inward weakness, loss of appetite, indigestion, depression of spirits, trembling or shaking of the hands or limbs, and all consumptive habits. They purify the blood, ease the most unpleasant sensations in the stomach, and promote general warmth and perspiration. They are delightfully aromatic to the taste and smell; agreeably stimulating and stringent in their action on the fibres of the stomach, giving that proper tension and activity to these delicate organs which good digestion requires For sale by

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

A CHALLENGE!

WHEREAS, A CERTAIN DAGUERREOTYPIST of this city has advertised that he takes the only genuine Ambrotypes in this city, and that all others are bogus, we announce this a gross misrepresentation, and an attempt to swindle the public. Mr GEO. McKOWN, of our firm, was putting up Ambrotypes by the alleged patented process, at Mr Root's establishment in Philadelphia, long before a glass pict ire was taken in California: but, as it was soon found out it invariably destroyed the picture, it was repudiated. We can show any person, in a few minutes, by calling at our rooms, the truth of this statement.

SAN FRANCISCO

SATURDAY MORNING, June 21, 1856.

Independent Battalion.

We hope, in the course of a month or so, to see the present Independent Companies formed into an Independent Battalion; with such a parent stem as the combination formed by the Independent City, National, and Wallace Guards, the branches would be equally as fruitful. We do not think it absolutely necessary for a body of men desiring to perform military duty, to be enrolled in the service of the State; they will be just as effective independent of that authority. The only benefit to accrue from such enrollment being that the arms, accoutrements and ammunition are furnished free gratis for nothing, and a Company is liable at any time to be deprived of them. Some of the most magnificently armed and equipped, and best drilled companies in the cities of Boston, New York, and elsewhere, are independent companies; we see no reason why the same state of affairs should not exist here. All the companies now separated from the State Militia have, or will shortly have, every requisite necessary to render them successful; and it would be well for the officers of these companies to assemble as soon as practicable, and decide upon some definite course of action in regard to the subject.

ARMORY.—Workmen have been engaged during the last week, in reconstructing the upper portion of the building known as the "California Ehchange," for the purpose of an armory, to be used by the First Infantry Battalion. Great care has been taken to render the building entirely secure, and strong enough to bear the weight of an entire Battalion while drilling. The roof has been bridged, with substantial timber, and the floor will easily sustain the great pressure which will be put upon it. The drill room, when finished, will be eighty feet deep by sixty in width. It will be fitted up with every convenience calculated to ensure success and proficiency in drill. It will be entirely in order and ready for occupancy about the 1st of July.

YOUNG AMERICA GUARD.—Charles P. Eagan, has been elected Captain, and a son of General Estell, Lieutenant of the "Young America Guard," which company has in reality been formed in good faith. Their drill nights are Tuesday and Saturday evenings, but at present they labor under great disadvantage for want of proper arms and equipments. We hope they will not wait to procure their arms from the State, but endeavor to procure them in time to parade on the 4th of July. We have been informed that the Independent City Guard, will allow the use of their room to the "Young Guard, for drilling; their present place, on Battery street, is too far out of the way.

Improved Extract of Yellow Dock & Sarsaparilla

Is acknowledged to be the best Sarsaparilla made; as is certified by the wonderful cures it has performed. Remember, this is the only True and Original Article. This Medicine, when used according to Directions,

Will Cure Without Fail,

Scrofula, or King's Evil, Cancers, Tumors, Eruptions of the Skin, Erysipelas, Chronic Sore Eyes, Ringworm, or Tetter, Scald Head, Rheumatism, Pains in the Bones and Joints, Old Sores, Ulcers, Swelling of the Glands, Syphilis, Dyspepsia, Salt Rheum, Disease of the Kidneys, Loss of Appetite, Disease Arising from the use of Mercury, Pain in the Side and Shoulders, General Debility, JAUNDICE AND COSTIVENESS.

The Best Female Medicine Known.

The Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for females of delicate health, resulting from the irregularity of menstrual discharges, and other diseases peculiar to their sex. We assure the afflicted that a bottle or two of DR. GUYSOTT'S EXTRACT OF YELLOW DOCK AND SARSAPARILLA will at once regulate those difficulties and renew the natural energies.

Syphilis, Scrofula and Diseased Blood.

Dr. Guysott's Improved Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla is a true specific. The proprietors have in their possession over one hundred certificates of the most extraordinary cures effected by it. We can safely say, TRY IT. It revives the drooping constitution, eradicates all bad humors from the blood, and by its tonic properties restores the invalid to health and vigor. As a spring and summer medicine, it has no equal. Its singularly efficacious action on the blood, its strengthening and vivifying action on the system, stand pre-eminent above all other Sarsaparillas. If you would have the rose brought back to your cheek, a clear, healthy and transparent skin, and life and health infused through the system, take Guysott's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. It contains more of the pure Honduras Sarsaparilla than any other preparation extant, which is chemically combined with the Extract of Yellow Dock and the Extract of Wild Cherry, thus making the remedy more efficient than any other Sarsaparilla before the public. At the same time it is perfectly free from all mineral poisons, which cannot be said of any other Sarsaparilla compounds.

Sold by all the Druggists in California and Oregon.

PATENT AMBROTYPES

Corner of Sacramento and Montgomery streets.

To those who wish something New and BEAUTIFUL:—We have purchased the Patent Right of CUTTING AMBROTYPES for this State, and are now prepared to take them in a style unequalled in the United States, of any size, from the smallest minature to life size

I hereby denounce all Pictures taken on Glass in this city or State, and called Ambrotypes, as scours, and a fraud upon the public, being a miserable imitation of the genuine article. I would say to all who have been deceived and swindled with Bogus Pictures, not to condemn this new and beautiful invention until they have seen the GENUINE AMBROTYPES They are said to be the most durable Picture known, as neither acids, water, or dampness of any kind can affect them Those having Daguerreotypes which they wish to preserve FOREVER, would do well to have them copied in Ambrotype

Great attention will be paid to GROUPING. Groups from 2 to 30 can be made perfect. Persons can now be taken with Regalias, Military or Fireman dress, without having the insignias or letters reversed

Children taken by this new process in less than one second

We still continue to execute our splendid Premium Daguerreotypes as usual. Having made great and extensive additions to our Gallery, for the purpose of making and exhibiting our Ambrotype Pictures, we would be pleased to have our work examined. Our Gallery is FREE to all or that purpose, as will be seen by the fo lowing affidavit

County of San Francisco, ss.—William B Little, being duly sworn, deposes and says—That he is a Druggist, and doing business in the city of San Francisco, under the name and style of Little & Co.; that on the 30th day of December, 1854, for good and valuable consideration, Dr. Wm. Devine, who was then in the city of San Francisco, sold to him the recipe, and instructed him in the art of manufacturing the Lozenges known as Dr. Devine's Compound Pitch Lozenges, and that the articles he has sold as Dr. Devine's Compound Pitch Lozenges, are the genuine Compound Pitch Lozenges, prepared according to the re cipe so sold and made known to him by said Dr. Wm Devine; and deponent further says that the said Dr. Wm Devine authorized and appointed him sole agent of said Lozenges, in and for the State of California.

Winn's Fountain Head,

CLAY STREET, OPPOSITE THE PLAZA

Search the city, North, South, East or West,
WINN'S 'FOUNTAIN HEAD' Saloon's by far the best;
You not only find a sumptuous bill of fare,
But your eyes also will be feasted there—
Rich Turkey carpets, soft as downy swan,
Glowing like sunset clouds, your feet rests on;
Whilst costly draperies in gay festoons,
Give an air of elegance to Winn's Saloon
You look in vain for if you go elsewhere—
Besides, you take your ease in rosewood chair,
With crimson velvet cushions, or on sofas rare;
Italian marble tables, polished fine,
Invite the hungry to sit down and dine
Or sup—or in the morning break their fast;
But whether it is morn or night, a rich repast
Awaits the visitors, subject to their call; [them all
And whether five or five hundred, "Winn" can serve
Fine venison steaks, done up in Winn's best tyle,
That would from epicurian force a smile;
Oysters serv'd up in all ways you can name;
All kinds of fowls, the wild as well as tame,
Ducks, geese and partridges, fine fat snipe and teal;
Choice mutton chops, beef steak and tender veal
Fish of all kinds served up to suit the guest,
For each one knows which way fish suits him best;
Soups of all grades, from turtle down to pea,
But all as good as any soup can be;
Eggs, Ham and Cutlets—but it would be no boast
To say no Restaurant on the Pacific coast
Can with "Winn's Fountain Head" at all compare.
If you doubt it, call in and try his bill of fare
Winn's Pastry can't be match'd, and his Creams
Are so superior that it almost seems
Impossible such could be made by human hands,
But came direct from fabled fairy lands
For the Christmas Holidays for girls and boys,
Winn will have ready a thousand sugar toys,
Of every kind intended to delight
The prattlers hearts and glad their joyous sight.
Let every man and woman who this may read,
Be sure to visit Winn at the "Fountain Head,"
Whose cook stands always ready to prepare
The choicest dishes ever named on Bill of Fare.

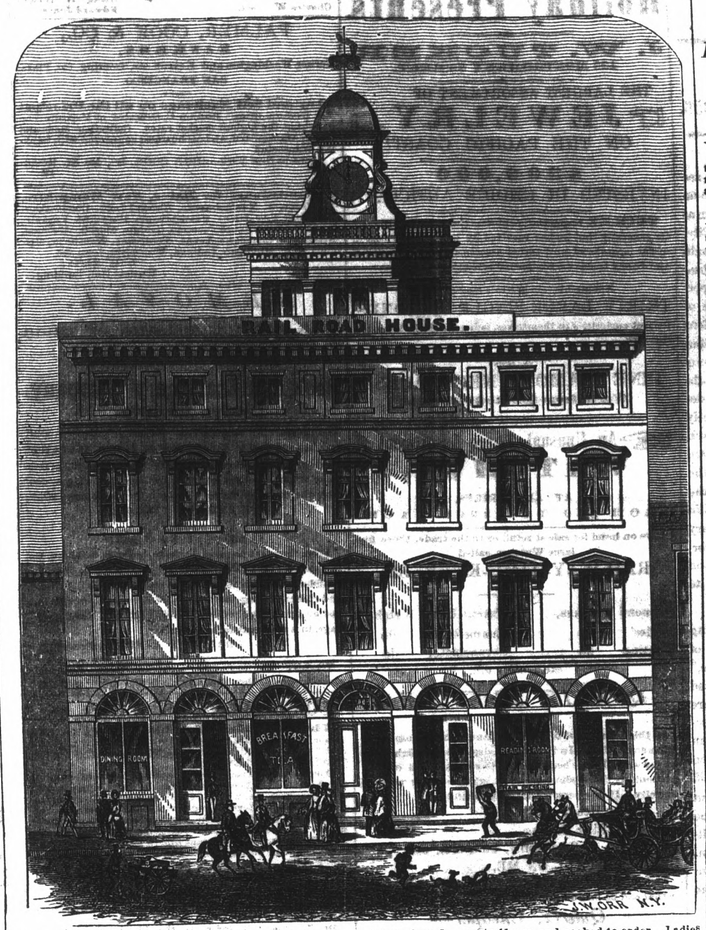
RAIL ROAD HOTEL.



RAIL ROAD HOTEL.

Nos. 46 & 48 Commercial St., and 87 Clay Street,

SAN FRANCISCO.

The stranger will easily distinguish this Hotel by observing the Cupola and Town Clock, which are visible from all parts of the city, and from the balcony of which a most beautiful view of the city, bay and surrounding country can always be obtained. No other Hotel in the city possesses the same advantages.

This Hotel is a First Class House, Fire-proof throughout; lighted by gas; water and all modern improvements in every story; situated in the most central part of the city; the most cleanly and best kept Hotel on the Pacific. Single or double rooms, with or without board. Meals at all hours, from 5 A M to 11 P M, and cooked to order Ladies Ordinary, second story.

A Great Reduction in Prices, to keep pace with the times, enables the visitor to live better and more economically at the Rail Road Hotel, than elsewhere. See Bill of Fare, and observe the variety of food and moderation of charges.

The visitor is also entitled to the free inspection of numerous large and beautiful views along the Panama Railroad. Chagres River, and Great Atlantic and Pacific Rail Road.

No runners attached to this establishment, as its proprietors depend upon its own merits.

WHALING & KENT'S General Undertaking

—AND—

Furnishing Establishment,

161 Sacramento St., 3 doors below Kearny,

SAN FRANCISCO.

J. HORACE KENT begs leave to announce to the public that in connection with his office as County Coroner, he has purchased from Thos. B. Cunningham, his entire interest in the concern of Jno. W. Whaling & Co., Undertakers, and that the style of the firm hereafter will be

WHALING & KENT,

The establishment having been thoroughly refitted, we are now prepared at all times to attend to funerals with promptness and dispatch, having received a large invoice of Undertakers' goods by late arrivals from New York.—Having also on hand a large stock of

LEAD AND METALIC COFFINS,

We are at all times prepared to disinter bodies and prepare them so that they can be forwarded with safety to any part of the world, without danger of further decomposition.

FISK'S

Patent Metalic Burial Cases,

AND CORSE PRESERVERS.

The subscribers having received the right of sale of the above Burial Cases, and are prepared to furnish them to Undertakers and others at a small advance upon cost price in the Atlantic States.

The advantages claimed in the use of "Fisk's Metalic Coffins" for preserving the dead, over all others in use are, First, that they necessarily cost very little over the price charged for coffins made of the ordinary woods, and that the manner of using them is so simple that any person can do so by following the directions which accompany each case; and lastly, because they answer the purposes they were originally intended or designed for, viz: the preservation of the human body from decomposition after death, so that it can be forwarded to any part of the world with safety, allowing sufficient time to gratify carriving friends who may be absent, and thereby enabling them to take a last fond look of the dead without offending the most delicate or sensitive. We have witnessed the preservative qualities of these coffins a number of times, in cases where it became cnecessary to convey the corpse to a distance and never in a single instance have known them to fail in all that is claimed for them.

Being perfectly air tight, the body once placed in them retained the natural appearance, without disturbing or disfiguring it in the least, and will remain so for a number of years, if proper care is taken so as to prevent the case from getting broken. And we further state that it is only necessary to give them a trial in order to satisfy the most sceptical.

MINOR COMMISSIONS

—OR—

GENERAL PURCHASING AGENCY,

For the execution of orders for single articles of every description; i. e., Minor Personal Commissions, as distinguished from Dealers' Orders.

Having for the past three years successfully conducted a similar business in this city, the subscriber now offers his services to the non-residents generally in all sections of the State.

An agency of this character has become a requirement o the time, and is in keeping with the Express facilities which now extend to all parts of the State. For such a business, the subscriber claims to be well fitted by experience, taste, tact, education and business acquaintance; while a long connection with Expresses, affords the means of prompt transmission in every direction.

Orders promptly and carefully executed for all kinds of Merchandize, Books, Prints, Music, Scientific and Agricultural Instruments, Tools, Machinery, Weapons, Sporting Implements, Jewelry, Silverware, Drugs, &c., Clothing, Fancy Articles, and Family Supplies; objects of Taste and Art, Ladies' Wear, etc.

The Best Professional Aid is secured, where required, as in purchasing Pianos and other Musical Instruments, Paintings, etc.

For orders of small amount, goods can be paid for on delivery by Express; larger amounts will require a remittance on account, or a city reference.

As the aggregate amount of orders secures the usual trade allowance with wholesale dealers, parties can have their commissions filled on as good or better terms than could be obtained by each singly.

All orders should be as explicit as possible, in essential particulars.

Orders may be given in French, Spanish or German.

—COMMISSION CHARGES:—

Under $50, 10 per cent. From $50 to 100, 5 per cent. Over $100, 2 1-2 per cent.
